A vote for Brewster is a vote for Woodrow Wilson.

The war news grows better and better and the end seems near at hand.

VOTE, Democrats, vote! You have a straight way and just cause. Vote it straight!

A vote for the Democratic ticket is a vote to shorten the stay of the boys "over there."

Let no Democrat willfully absent himself from the polls this year; his vote will be an expression of his loyalty, not only to his party, but to his country, as well.

THERE is no cause for Democratic scratching at this election. The State and County tickets are made up of honest, true and capable men. Not one incompetent or undeserving candidate in the list.

REARWARD, rearward see him go, Sometimes fast and sometimes slow! O yes, the Hun Is on the run— Trust the boys to keep him so!

DURING the primary election campaign the Republicans favoring Mr. Weber intimated that Mr. Rhodes was not as anti-Hun as he might have been. Has Deggendorf with his Pottoei Journal demonstrated that they were mistaken?

WHEN a Republican holds forth to you the shortcomings of the Wilson administration in military preparation and tries to show how much better it would have been done under the g. o. p., just ask him to tell you about the "embalmed beef" episode of the Spanish-American war.

YES, for two years President Wilson exerted his influence as Chief Executive to keep us out of war; but when the murderous, arrogant Hun forced war upon us, his call "To arms!" had the approval of all true Americans. We entered the world-war to conquer the peace denied us, and who dare say our part therein has not been effective and honorable? Two years ago "He has kept us out of war" was a good slogan justified by fact and circumstance; this year "On with the war to victory!" is the cry of all loyal Americans. To this end the President appeals to them to stand by him in the election of a friendly Congress—just as Lincoln and McKinley in their times of stress and anxiety appealed to the nation for the return of Republican Congressmen.

DURING the Spanish-American war Roosevelt said:

"A refusal to sustain the President this year will, in the eyes of Europe, be read as a refusal to sustain the war."

Former President Harrison, urging the election of a Republican Congress, said:

"If the Democrats score a telling victory, if Democratic senators, congressmen and governors are elected, Spain will see in it a gleam of hope; she will take fresh hopes, and a renewal of hostilities, more war, may be necessary to secure to us what we have already won."

So said the New York Tribune, Senator Penrose and scores of other good Republican leaders. At that time there were no pro-Spanish in this country, but the Democratic party, in Congress and out of it, on the question of the war, stood solidly behind a Republican administration. The fact that the European countries would view a Republican defeat as a repudiation of the war carried great weight among all classes, and a large Democratic contingent sank their political preference because of it. The independent voters were similarly influenced. The present administration is Democratic and the same reasoning ought to govern the voter of to-day. Every patriotic citizen ought to support the Democratic ticket. Why? A vote against it carries comfort to the enemies of the Allied cause. It is a well known fact that every pro-German and every man whose sympathies are not with the government in this righteous war will vote the Republican ticket. The Republican party in Missouri pins its faith on the pro-German vote of St. Louis to give it victory in this State. St. Louis has been a hot-bed of pro-Germanism, and there will be no pro-German or slacker in either Iron or any other county who will not vote the Republican ticket. Good Democrats and good Republicans are loyal to their country, and every man of them ought to vote to support their government and its war measures. Good, true Democrats cannot afford to stay away from the polls or fail to vote for Joseph W. Folk for Senator and Arthur T. Brewster for Congress, as well as the whole Democratic ticket.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J.
